

"I Remember Most"
Daniel Wolf (Daniel Wolf)

V1

Your special scent still lingers in our room above the store
Even though you long since refused to come here anymore
It lingers in the doorway; I sense it in the hall
It makes me think of you, my love, but I don't need that at all

V2

The breakfast tea we used to share remains there in the jar
Waiting here for your return from wherever you are
It sits there in the cupboard beside your favorite mug
I don't need that reminder of your gentle morning hug

Chorus:

I remember easily the way you used to smile
When we saw each other, when we hadn't for a while,
I remember lightning storms and the way you held me close
The way we loved each other is what I remember most

V3

I wake up nights alone now and I reach, but you're not there
It seems so strange to realize that you no longer care
It hurts most in the morning, for that's when I want to call
Cause it makes me think of you, my love, and I don't need that at all

Bridge: The promise of your presence that greeted me each day,
Gave me faith that I could face whatever came my way.

Chorus:

I remember easily the way you used to smile
When we saw each other, when we hadn't for a while,
I remember lightning storms and the way you held me close
The way we loved each other is what I remember most

V4

The softness of your breathing as it floated to my ears
Will stay with me as I go on alone through empty years
I'll hear it in the Springtime, I'll hear it in the Fall
It'll make me think of you, my love, but I won't need that at all,
No I won't need that at all.
I won't need that all
