

“Rooting For The World”
Carisa Santana (Carisa Santana)
Mexico

Rooting for my brother my papa
Here we come, under the sun

Living in a world where they control our thoughts
Where “say what you want” means a gun in your mouth
Don’t say too much, don’t say too much
In a political world they want to manipulate us

We’re building our tribe, we’re God in disguise
Say you know, you know nothing at all
Follow the law, do as they want
The end of war begins within us

Rooting for the world, don’t want to fight no more
Rooting for the world, don’t want to cry no more
Rooting for the world, rooting for love
Why are we wrong? I say why are we wrong?

We ain’t looting, or shutting we’re rooting for our lives
With the universal sound, with the truth in our mouth
They want to shut us down, they want to shut us down
But we stand up tall, yeah we stand up tall

Waiting for the world to change its song
Doing what we want, we don’t care no more
Where is the love? Let’s find your soul
Why are we wrong? I say why are we wrong?

Rooting for my brother my papa
Here we come, under the sun

Rooting for the world, don’t want to fight no more
Rooting for the world, don’t want to cry no more
Rooting for the world, rooting for love
Why are we wrong , I say why are we wrong
