

"Darling"
David Gorman
England

Against all odds
I'd get sunburnt in the rain
Hold the losing cards
Even when I fixed the games
Run around in circles
When the path is straight
Darling, I'd be helpless
If you ever went away

Spend all my free time
Thinking what to do
Never make up my mind
Start again a time or two
Turn new beginnings
Into dead-end routes
Darling, I'd be nowhere
If somewhere wasn't you

Sometimes we're thunder and we're rain
Better together but we are not the same
Sometimes we wonder who's on the wrong page
But don't spoil the ending
I'll catch up some day

Never hear the sweet tune
Of the morning birds
Just a silent full moon
Drowning out my words
TV flickers
Shadows in the room
Darling, I'd be midnight
If the morning wasn't you

Sometimes we're thunder and we're rain
Better together but we are not the same
Sometimes we wonder who's on the wrong page
But don't spoil the ending
I'll catch up some day
